

Aastra Intecom Receives INTERNET TELEPHONY[®] Magazine's 10th Annual Product of the Year Award

Clearspan[™] Recognized for Outstanding Innovation

Dallas, TX, January 4, 2008 — Aastra Intecom announced today that Technology Marketing Corporation's (TMC[®]) INTERNET TELEPHONY magazine (www.itmag.com) has named Clearspan[™] as a recipient of its 2007 Product of the Year Award. INTERNET TELEPHONY has been the VoIP Authority Since 1998[™].

Clearspan is a new network communications platform based on state-of-the-art design, open industry standards and proven carrier-grade technology for large and very large enterprises. The value proposition for Clearspan is quite simple: provide a rich, easy to use communications environment across all the devices users encounter and architect it to the most stringent professional standards for openness, performance, scalability and reliability. "Clearspan is a continuation of Aastra's tradition of delivering high-performance mission-critical solutions to large enterprises," said Dana A. Call, Executive Vice-President and General Manager, Aastra USA Inc. "We're very pleased that INTERNET TELEPHONY has recognized the unique value of the Clearspan solution. We are excited about the ability of this product to deliver immediate benefits without wholesale replacement of existing systems. Our Self-Paced Migration capability allows enterprises to migrate to full VoIP at their own pace."

"Aastra Intecom has proven they are committed to quality and excellence while addressing real needs in the marketplace. INTERNET TELEPHONY is pleased to grant a 2007 Product of the Year Award to Clearspan," said Rich Tehrani, TMC President and Editor-in-Chief of INTERNET TELEPHONY magazine. We're proud to honor their hard work and accomplishments and look forward to more innovative solutions from Aastra Intecom in the future."

A full list of Product of the Year winners will be published in the February, 2008 issue of INTERNET TELEPHONY magazine. (www.itmag.com)
